

IPG Health in Japan Wins Gold for Japan/Korea Specialist Agency of the Year by Campaign Magazine

Tokyo, December 16, 2024 – Today, IPG Health in Japan (IPG Health Japan: Minato-ku, Tokyo, representative director, president: Junji Yokokawa) announced that IPG Health in Japan, home to the agencies of FCB Health Japan and McCann Health Japan, has been awarded gold for the 7th consecutive year for “Japan/Korea Specialist Agency of the Year” at the 2024 Agency of the Year Awards hosted by Campaign Asia-Pacific. The publication is Asia’s largest advertising and marketing magazine.

IPG Health in Japan president, Junji Yokokawa commented, “In a market with continued volatility, we reaffirmed the importance of pursuing excellence in what we do as a specialist agency throughout the year. I am extremely proud of my team for their relentless efforts and am grateful for our wonderful partnership and support from our clients.”

For over thirty years, the Campaign Agency of the Year Awards has celebrated leadership, operational excellence, business performance and overall achievements in advertising and brand communications in each of Southeast Asia's five regions. Each award recognizes outstanding performance and success in the region among media, advertising, creative, digital, PR, independent and specialty agencies, and brand communication.

IPG’s UM and Weber Shandwick also took home gold for Japan Media Agency of the Year and bronze for Japan PR Agency of the Year, respectively.
